A cartoon illustration showing two scenes. On the left, a man wearing a hat, a backpack, and boots is standing on a rocky path with mountains in the background. He has a confused expression, with three question marks floating above his head. He is holding a magnifying glass. On the right, a man wearing goggles and overalls is working on a large rocket engine mounted on a stand. He is holding a wrench. A dog is sitting next to him, looking up at the engine. There are various tools and parts scattered on the ground.
